

Stewardship Checklist

A Personal Audit for Responsible Living & Alignment

Purpose: Stewardship is the disciplined management of what has been entrusted to you — time, money, energy, influence, gifts, and opportunities. This checklist is designed to help you evaluate alignment and responsibility across the core areas of life.

SECTION I — Time Stewardship

- I begin my day with intention (not reaction).
 - My calendar reflects my true priorities.
 - I eliminate unnecessary time-wasters weekly.
 - I review my week before starting a new one.
 - I schedule growth, not just tasks.

SECTION II — Financial Stewardship

- I track my income and expenses consistently.
- My spending aligns with my mission and values.

- I avoid impulsive purchases.
 - I save and invest with long-term vision.
 - I give intentionally, not emotionally.

SECTION III — Energy & Health Stewardship

- I protect my physical health with discipline.
 - I manage stress instead of ignoring it.
 - I set boundaries to protect mental clarity.
 - I rest strategically, not lazily.
 - I avoid environments that drain my strength.

SECTION IV — Relationship Stewardship

- I communicate honestly and respectfully.
- I take responsibility for my actions.
- I resolve conflict quickly.
- I invest time in meaningful relationships.

- I do not tolerate toxic dynamics.

SECTION V — Purpose & Calling Stewardship

- I know my life mandate or mission.
 - My daily habits support my long-term vision.
 - I remove distractions that dilute my calling.
 - I pursue growth even when unseen.
 - I measure progress quarterly.

SECTION VI — Integrity Audit

- My private life matches my public words.
 - I correct mistakes immediately.
 - I do not blame others for my drift.
 - I follow through on commitments.
 - I choose obedience over comfort.

Reflection Section

1. Which area requires immediate correction?

2. What specific action will I take this week?

3. Weekly Review Commitment: I will audit my stewardship every _____ at _____.

Closing Charge: What you manage well, multiplies. What you neglect, decays. Stewardship is not control — it is responsibility aligned with purpose.
